UPDATE: Circumstances of the shooting added.

A narcotics investigation led to a fatal officer-involved shooting in Riverside on Tuesday afternoon, Nov. 18, police said.

The shooting happened about 2:30 p.m. in the 10400 block of Keller Avenue near La Granada Elementary School.

No officers were injured.

"The suspect is deceased," Lt. Mike Cook said shortly before 4:30 p.m. from the scene.

The gunfire erupted at the end of a narcotics investigation, and the gun was recovered at the scene, he said.

The incident began when officers taking part in a drug probe tried to stop the suspect's vehicle, Riverside police later said in a written release. The release doesn't specify why the vehicle was targeted.

The driver – who officials didn't name until his next of kin could be reached -- didn't stop until he reached a driveway in the 5400 block of Bushnell Avenue, the release said. He then fled on foot, and officers gave chase.

When the suspect reached the backyard of a home on Keller, he stopped, turned and pointed a gun at officers, the release said. Officers then shot and killed the suspect.

Officers called in medical aid and attempted first aid on the suspect. Fire personnel and ambulance crews arrived and pronounced the man dead.

Some area residents said they saw bits and pieces of the incident.

"I heard a police car coming, with the sirens," said neighborhood resident Jennifer Garcia. "I saw the police car fly down the street. And then I heard, 'Pow, pow, pow.'"

"Then mobs of police cars came and blocked off the street."

Police taped off a section of Bushnell and nearby Keller.

The incident prompted a 10-minute lockdown of La Granada Elementary on Keller. Alvord Unified School District spokesman Shawn Loescher said the school was on an abbreviated schedule, letting out at 1 p.m., so most students were gone before the shooting.

But those in after-school programs were held inside, Loescher said. Parents were notified by a recorded phone message, and those with students in the after-school program were allowed to pick up their children early. Few took the school up on the offer, Loescher said.

Operations at the district office, also on Keller, were unaffected, he said.

Anybody with information on the case is asked to contact Detective Dave Smith at 951-353-7103 or Detective Greg Rowe at 951-353-7136.

How dare any of you say anything negative about this situation! This man may have not been perfect but hey I'm guessing not all of your hands are clean and as for the person who said she "check out the family's Facebook and had the nerve to say this was the norm for us" it's people like you that make this world a very ugly place. This man has kids a wife and a mother and maybe he made so bad choice's but haven't we all none of us are perfect so before you all get on your high horses maybe you should take a step back and think "if this was my son, daughter, husband, brother or whatever would you want to read all these negative comments? This man's family is grieving right now so out of respect for his wife and kids and the rest of my family I ask that you please show some respect and I ask that you pray for them that they find comfort and healing, my family isn't perfect but remember yours isn't either and I would hate if any of you had to go through what my family is going through right now.

bad choices like running from the police and pulling a gun on them??? with prop 47 passing and being in effect intermediately he would have seen zero prison time and maybe..maybe a 1 month in jail at the most if he would have just stopped when police told him to. sorry but fools get zero respect in a community sick and tired of criminals draining it down. sorry but 90% of population works, follows the law, and is clean.

The most he would have got for a drug conviction was probably a few weeks or months in jail. By choosing to be selfish and run, he decided his children no longer needed a dad. He can't take that choice back. Being a selfless loving father is a choice he did not make. It is sad but that is the fact. Hopefully others will learn from him.

nope...not gonna feel bad for someone that runs recklessly in a car endangering others, then on foot, then stupidly points a gun at cops. the bad shake in life b.s. and he did his best b.s. dont cut it when others lives are endangered because of someones selfishness. thug life equals dead life

If a person does not respect law enforcement, the laws of our country and obviously does not respect his own family by being involved in drugs. How can you expect others to show respect???

the cops did your cousin and her kids a favor....I agree, no respect for a person who endangers others for their own gain....the herd gets thinner by one.

Regardless of what, or why this man was in this situation is neither here nor there. We all have different journeys in life that lead us to where we are headed.....Because his wasn't the same as yours, you think you're better than? You're ignorant! He was someones child!! People loved him, he mattered! Have some compassion. Who are you to judge, if you haven't walked in their shoes? I've lost a child, I wish nobody ever had to go through that, let alone go through it with comments and opinions like some that I've read. A little respect goes a long way. May this family find peace and comfort in their grieving period, and strength in their hearts to be able to get through this rough time. Prayers to those in need.

Wow, sanctimonious much? Had he gone ahead and killed any of the police officers, who also have families and are indeed someone's children, would he have trotted out the 'compassion' card in court too? Why have prisons at all, if all there's left to say is 'have you walked in his shoes'? I mean, that excuses everything, doesn't it? Rape, assault, theft, murder, DUI, etc., I mean...you name it. Apologists always clamor for 'compassion', but people breaking the law and putting the public at risk NEVER exhibit the same.

My heart and prayers go out to the family, its such a sad situation to be in ,there is always two sides to every story and i can guarantee you only one is given...unfortunately i know exactly what you are going through and we will only hear one side which is always the police side ...the press is not your friend they will twist your words and find all the past faults on the victim, try to figure out some way to blame them... i seriously doubt they ever saw a gun! And yes people will judge and leave nasty commits only by what they read,not what they know! But God knows all things and may he be with you and help your family through this time of grieve, I am so sorry for your loss.

Yes i feel for the family but when you find the whole truth out i know the family will use the race card. 1.you had a gun. 2. You ran from police.3. It was near a school for god sake. 4. NNarcotics. so when is the memorial for this so called victim? You know thats coming with he was a good boy. Wasnt doing drugs and we dont know how he got a gun. Yes i do feel for the family. Lets see how he answers to the Lord himself.

so a drug suspect who ran from the cops and had a handgun ends up dead and the usual family comes out saying leave him alone he was good to us. well i say who the hell cares if he was good to you,he was a drug criminal,had a gun with bad motives,ran from the police in a car endangering the public. i say good riddance to a complete thug and d bag from the ghetto..best part is that no cops were hurt is what truly matters

First, learn to spell. Learn to punctuate. Learn how to properly structure a sentence. People take you more seriously when you achieve the aforementioned. Second, nobody in a public forum needs to know anything about the dead suspect or his family. Who cares? I know I don't. Third, this forum as stated above, is public. That means people are not obligated to keep their comments to themselves.
